Purpose of this memorandum is to evaluate Book Review Program and to set out its purpose and annual statistics. Book Review Control Desk, established January, 1959, functions as central control for books to be purchased, maintains book review index which includes pending and completed reviews and other data pertinent to individual reviews. Records of book reviews maintained in control file 62-46855. Purchase of books is brought to attention of Administrative Division. Cost of operation of Desk absorbed by existing Publications Desk. During period of 9/27/68 through 9/29/69, a total of 105 books was received at Seat of Government. Forty-nine books were reviewed, 53 were obtained for reference purposes, and three were received by the Director but were not reviewed. Of 38 book reviews completed by Domestic Intelligence Division, two were done by Research-Satellite Section. Instructions regarding Book Review Control Desk are included in Section 62, Manual for Bureau Supervisors. Book Review Control Desk performs valuable service because it eliminates duplication both in purchase and review of books, enables Seat of Government personnel to obtain quickly copies of reviews for reference, and, because of knowledge of current publications, frequently alerts personnel to appearance of new books pertinent to work and operations of Bureau. A status report is submitted annually.

SUBJECT: MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.,
SECURITY MATTERS - COMMUNIST

CLASSIFIED & EXT. BY ~~SP4 SRH/BCE~~
REASON: FCIM II, 1-2.4.2
DATE OF REVIEW ~~10-6-89~~
~~6076~~

This is a review of the book, "My Life With Martin Luther King, Jr." by Coretta Scott King, published in 1969 by Holt, Rinehart and Winston. The book is being placed in the Bureau library. Excerpts from this book were published in Life magazine on 9/12/69 and 9/19/69 under the title "He Had A Dream."

SYNOPSIS:

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED EXCEPT WHERE SHOWN OTHERWISE.

We have never investigated Mrs. King but there are numerous references in our files to her activities in connection with her husband's activities and about her pacifist activities. She acknowledges the assistance of Stanley Levison (a former communist) in writing this book. Levison boasted that he was able to get things he wanted into the book. The book, being a widow's epitaph, depicts a saintly couple with saintly children surrounded by saintly associates.

The portrayal of a number of incidents in the book is far from accurate. References to the Bureau are not derogatory.

Review of Bureau Files

We have never investigated Mrs. King. Our files contain numerous references to her in connection with her husband's activities and her own activities in pacifist organizations such as the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Book Review

In her acknowledgment at the front of the book Mrs. King stated that Stanley Levison had read the entire manuscript and had offered many useful suggestions. She also acknowledged the valuable legal and personal assistance she got from Harry Wachtel. Later in the book she said Levison and Wachtel were two of King's dear friends and that King sought their advice and used them as sounding boards for his ideas. She said Levison always worked in the background and his contribution was indispensable. She added that Levison and Wachtel were two of the most important supporters of her husband's work and that they continued to assist her in many valuable ways to this day.

Levison, a white attorney, is identified as a secret member of the Communist Party (CP) as late as 1963. He did not think the CP's program on civil rights was sufficiently militant and his break with the CP was tactical rather than ideological. Wachtel, also white, has been active in the National Lawyers Guild, a communist front. [redacted] was a CP club chairman in 1944 and Wachtel's name was also contained in CP records although his relationship with the CP is not known. (S) u b6 b7C

In April, 1969, one of our sources reported that Levison said he was busy working with Mrs. King on her book. He said that because it was completed just before the deadline he was able to get some things into it that the publisher wanted to keep out. He said two of the things he got into the book were an attack on the Vietnam war and the fact that King did not have a "one-dimensional, negative attitude" toward black militants and black nationalists but that there was mutual respect with these people.

Mrs. King's treatment of the incidents contained in the book must be read as that of a wife writing about her dead husband and about her impressions concerning his activities-- a widow's epitaph. A lack of objectivity and a biased report overemphasizing the importance of these activities are to be expected in such a book and are present in this book. Mrs. King's book depicts, page after page, a saintly couple, with saintly children, surrounded by saintly associates. She compares King with Christ on a number of occasions. Also on one occasion she makes the statement that "taking the world as a whole, his (Martin Luther King, Jr.) influence may even be greater than that of the Pope."

Concerning Mrs. King's pride, conceit and materialistic outlook one of our sources in June, 1968, reported that Stanley Levison commented that Mrs. King was resentful of the money the Southern Christain Leadership Conference (SCLC) was currently receiving from donations following King's death and appeared to feel the civil rights movement owed her a living.

Our sources also reported that, according to Levison, Mrs. King wanted top leadership after King's death. Levison told her she did not have the capacity to solve problems and that she underestimated the gravity of the problems and overestimated herself. Levison expressed the opinion in June, 1968, that Mrs. King's conceit was such that she could not be afraid of writing the book.

The book is full of incidents, described in mythlike goodness and light, which in reality were far, far from it.

OTHER USDC Court Order

One such incident was the description by Mrs. King of the actions of King's entourage in a hotel in Oslo, Norway, prior to his receiving the Nobel Peace Prize in December, 1964. They arrived in Oslo on 12/8/64 and King was awarded the prize on 12/10/64 and left for Stockholm, Sweden on 12/11/64. The evening in the Oslo Hotel was described by Mrs. King as one of hymn singing and a gathering together in simple fellowship and the warmth of oneness.

In the epilogue to her book Mrs. King thanked the people who sent checks to continue her husband's work and those who sent checks specifically to the children and herself. She said she had used these gifts to assist her in setting up and maintaining a staff and an office to handle the large volume of mail and "the myriad requests made of me."

This selfless, magnanimous, decorous attitude is belied by Mrs. King's actual shrewd, calculating, businesslike activities. In August, 1968, following King's death in April, 1968, Levison and Harry Belafonte, the Negro entertainer, conferred on Belafonte's concern over a request by Mrs. King for fifty percent of an SCLC fund. Levison said her request, which amounted to about $200,000 was for fifty percent of the Martin Luther King Fund which was established with the understanding that it would be shared with her. A confrontation between Mrs. King and the SCLC leadership was imminent over this matter and many other things. Levison, Mrs. King's devoted friend and protector, told Belafonte that only about half the money that had been collected for the Martin Luther King Fund had been put into that fund. Therefore, if Mrs. King's request was granted, she would still only receive about twenty percent of the fund.

On page 245, in writing about the death of President Kennedy Mrs. King mentioned the courage of Mrs. Kennedy and added that for all their philosophical explanations and their deep faith in God, she and King were still personally in a dark abyss of sorrow for "this gallant, compassionate and wise man." She indicated that in a way President Kennedy was King's best friend.

~~SECRET~~

This is a variance with the appraisal of Stanley Levison who in 1962 passed the word to Gus Hall, General Secretary of the Communist Party, USA, that "King is a whole-hearted Marxist who has studied it (Marxism), believes in it and agrees with it, but because of his being a minister of religion, does not dare to espouse it publicly." (S)

References to the FBI

On page 227 she mentioned that when King was in jail in Birmingham, Alabama, in April, 1963, she feared he was being held incommunicado. After trying to reach President Kennedy, he called her back and told her "We sent the FBI into Birmingham last night. We checked on your husband and he is alright." At the request of Assistant Attorney General Burke Marshall the Bureau did interview the chief of police in Birmingham on 4/14/63 who said King was in good health and was not being held incommunicado. In fact he had conferred with four attorneys on 4/13/69.

On page 247 she mentioned that the FBI had found the bodies of the three civil workers slain in Philadelphia, Mississippi.

On page 265 she tells about the march from Selma to Montgomery, Alabama, in March, 1965. During this march there was a rumor that King was to be assassinated by a man disguised as a minister. She then said "while we maintained unarmed guard, we understand the FBI was on hand guarding Martin all the time." This statement, while reported only as an understanding on her part, is a complete falsehood; we never guarded King.

This memorandum presents a review of captioned book, published in 1969 by the Wadsworth Publishing Company, Incorporated, Belmont, California. The book is being placed in the Bureau Library.

SYNOPSIS:

There are no references identifiable with the editors in Bureau files.

This book edited by James McEvoy and Abraham Miller, with contributing articles by such well-known individuals as Roy Wilkins, Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, President of San Francisco State College, San Francisco, California, traces the origin and scope of the present problems on American college campuses. A series of position papers by authors diametrically opposed in ideology and philosophy discusses numerous probable causes for the current student unrest. The volume is divided into three major sections: the scene, the spokesman, and the sources. The book examines school policies which lead to protest and the development of the coalition between black and white student militants. It is pointed out that the dissenters represent a very small minority of America's six million college students. The FBI is only mentioned one time in the book and not in a derogatory manner.

RE: BOOK REVIEW

"BLACK POWER AND STUDENT REBELLION,
CONFLICT ON THE AMERICAN CAMPUS"

REVIEW OF BUREAU FILES

There are no references identifiable with the editors in Bureau files.

BOOK REVIEW

The book edited by McEvoy and Miller, with contributing articles by such well-known individuals as Roy Wilkins, Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and a well-known leader in civil rights activities, and Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, President of San Francisco State College, San Francisco, California, traces the origin, causes, scope, and present problems on American college campuses. As the result of the beliefs and actions of black and white student dissidents, interpretative judgments and opinions of campus disorders based on the aims of black and white student militants and resulting reactions from school administrators are presented. The editors do not attempt to resolve the innumerable contradictions between the various contributing authors. Analytical case studies of recent student rebellions and protests at campuses across the Nation are presented. A series of position papers by authors diametrically opposed in ideology and philosophy discusses numerous probable reasons for the current student unrest.

The volume is divided into three major sections: the scene, the spokesman, and the sources. The book also examines the participants, the policies of universities which lead to protests, and the reasons for the development of the coalition between black and white student dissidents.

The book points out that until recently student concern with social ills was directed against institutions outside of the university. In the early 1960's, students

Memorandum G. C. Moore to W. C. Sullivan

RE: BOOK REVIEW

"BLACK POWER AND STUDENT REBELLION,

invested their energies in civil rights organizations. When student demonstrations initially occurred at the University of California at Berkeley in 1964, the alleged issues were the freedoms inherent in the conception of academic institutions. The basic structure or function of the university was not then challenged. It is pointed out that following this activity in Berkeley in 1964 upon the escalation of the war in Vietnam, the dissident students began to resist both the draft and the universities' complicity with both the Selective Service System and the Defense Department.

These new conflicts opened up a new channel for the expression of the Messianic fervor of student militants. The student dissidents claimed that a sick society had produced a sick university and the university, because of its relationship to the rest of society, could be used as a vehicle for moral change. They saw the university as the procurer and molder of material for "the system" and for the degenerate industrial war machine. Instead of molding youths to their places in American business, the student militants realized that the university, if changed to their militant ideas, could direct and mold youth to lead minority communities and to mount radical social reforms.

It is pointed out, however, that even at colleges that gather together the greatest number of dissidents, the vast majority of students--generally well over 95 per cent--remain interested onlookers or opponents rather than active dissenters. Thus, student dissenters actually represent a very small minority of America's six million college students and at most colleges, dissent is not visible at all.

"BLACK POWER AND STUDENT REBELLION
CONFLICT ON THE AMERICAN CAMPUS"

MENTION OF THE FBI

The FBI is mentioned on page 326 in a paragraph which discusses factors that militated against student activism in the 1950's. The paragraph follows:

"During the 1950's, one much-discussed factor that may have militated against student activism was the conviction that the consequences of protest (blacklisting, F.B.I. investigations, problems in obtaining security clearance, difficulties in getting jobs) were both harmful to the individual and yet extremely likely."

Enclosed for review by the Bureau is a brochure on captioned book, copyright 1969. Brochure sets out in considerable detail the Table of Contents of the book and it is apparent from this that the book would be of interest to the Bureau in the preparation of monographs and training documents and also in its planning relating to campus disorders and riots.

Although the book has not been obtained or reviewed by personnel of the Salt Lake City Division, it would appear that much of the material in this book would be alien to the thinking of law enforcement authorities and from this standpoint it might also be of interest to the Crime Records Division in connection with the Director's monthly message in the Law Enforcement Bulletin.

It is suggested the Bureau give consideration to obtaining this book for review and appropriate action.

This memorandum presents a review of captioned book, published in 1968 by Beacon Press, Boston. Copy of the book is being placed in the Bureau Library. There is no mention of the FBI in the book and Bureau files contain no additional pertinent information concerning the author.

The author, white, describes himself as a city planner who has been deeply involved in both urban renewal and the War on Poverty in the Roxbury ghetto of Boston as well as nationally. The book appears to be an honest attempt to analyze the racial problem in the United States. While the book is lengthy (592 pages) its message is simple. To avoid racial catastrophe ghettos must be eradicated and Negroes must be completely integrated into the economic and cultural fabric of the nation. The author claims the problem has not been solved yet because of a lack of genuine political commitment stating that our national leadership has done little to educate the public about the startling unevenness between whites and blacks. The alternative is continued and increasing racial strife.

He notes that massive infusion of government funds, tax credits and the establishment of industry in the ghetto areas are not sufficient. There must be stimulated genuine black leadership and participation by blacks in organized political, economic, social and cultural resources and institutions. Without this, there can be no eradication of the ghetto. He sets forth extensive statistics and facts to show that Negroes have not yet been integrated into the economic and cultural fabric of the nation. He proposes no specific method to solve the problem but notes that many working together, and headed by the President, can solve it.

Mr. Joseph Sullivan

Dear Mr. Sullivan:

I am enclosing two copies, as promised, of my book, "COUNTDOWN TO CHAOS." One is an inscribed copy for you and the other inscribed for Mr. Hoover. I hope that both of you, despite your busy day, will have a chance to read it. It is not only about Chicago 1968, but what were the philosophical, intellectual, and political forces that brought us to this "turning point in American politics" and what they portend for the future.

Since I have never numbered modesty among my virtues, I believe that if agents of the bureau and law enforcement heads could find time to read this it would give them at least a rough "overview" explaining how and why we got to the anarchy of our times and what they must cope with in a climate of hate.

You might be pleased to know that WTTG-TV in Washington, D.C., has booked me for a debate on November 12 on the Panorama Show (1:00-2:00 p.m.) with one of the officials of the November 14-15 Washington moratorium. I am also certain that Metromedia is going to take up my suggestion for a TV special, which will offer some intelligent opposition to the moratorium people. If it comes off it will be seen probably Saturday, November 15, in Washington, New York, and Los Angeles, and they will no doubt try and syndicate it to other markets. I am also trying to line up some opposition with "Today," "Tonight," and other shows. Will let you know if we can pierce the liberal paper curtain during the week of November 14-15.

I am off to Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, San Diego, and San Francisco to promote "Countdown," but will be back on Monday, November 3, the night my taped debate with author Gore Vidal airs in New York. It's the David Frost Show, shown between 8:30-10:00 p.m. on WNEW-TV.

I hope that my suggestion about Mr. Hoover doing something on the "Movement" will materialize. Is there any outside chance that he would consider doing a forward to my larger work, "The Anarchy of Young America," if he cannot find the time to do something on his own? I haven't, as yet, set a publishing date for this extensive study of the New Left and the revolution, which I date beginning with the U.S. civil rights movement.

THE NEW LEFT'S GOAL: SLAVERY

We've just been reading a remarkable new book: "Countdown to Chaos," by Jeffrey St. John; Nash Publishing Corp., Los Angeles, Calif.; 202 pages, $6.95.

Jeffrey St. John

Mr. St. John is a prominent member of the Conservative Party, which has been making such strides of late in New York City and State.

He devotes the first half of his book to a detailed analysis of the New Left groups that tried to make a shambles of the National Democratic Convention in Chicago in August, 1968.

Eight members of this bunch are scheduled to go on trial in Chicago next Wednesday, Sept. 24, on charges of conspiring to riot at that convention. And the New Left plans to keep Chicago in riotous ferment for the duration of the trial.

That makes the St. John book exceedingly timely—and if you are familiar with it, you will understand the political and economic background of this trial, as well as the sinister intentions of the entire New Left movement.

As St. John explains in thoroughly documented detail, the New Left claims to want to free Americans from alleged "slavery" to Capitalism, but in reality wants to trick them into the actual slavery that afflicts people in all Communist-ruled countries.

The second half of "Countdown to Chaos" is given over to numerous suggestions as to how alert and patriotic Americans can work to defeat the New Left.

We recommend the book to all who are concerned about the Yippies, Students for a Democratic Society, and their innumerable sister groups.

CHICAGO (CS-T)—Some 300 radical demonstrators fought pitched battles with police throughout the Near North Side last night.

Dozens of persons were injured, including 10 policemen. Two persons were shot. Several dozen windows in homes and parked cars were broken.

Sixty-five persons were arrested.

The gunshot victims were identified as Marshall Berzon, 22, of Connecticut, and Elizabeth Gardner, 26, of Seattle. Both were listed in satisfactory condition in a hospital.

On one street, police caught the tail end of a crowd and clubbed at least a dozen persons to the pavement, according to a Washington Post report. One girl's mouth was bleeding profusely. Police threw her comrades into a paddy wagon.

Guard Called in Chicago As S.D.S. Roams Streets

Special to The New York Times

CHICAGO, Oct. 9—The National Guard was called out as demonstrations by small bands of radical youths continued in the center of the city today after a wild night of window breaking and fighting with the police by the Weatherman faction of Students for a Democratic Society. Three young persons were hospitalized with gunshot wounds—one listed in serious condition—during last night's street battles.

Last night's hour-long rampage through the plush Near North Side and gaudy Old Town district saw 60 arrests, more than a dozen policemen and demonstrators injured and hundreds of windows smashed in stores, apartment buildings and automobiles.

The Weathermen, who gain control of the organization's national office last spring, advocate street fighting as a means of inspiring revolutionary activity among high school age youth. The Revolutionary Youth adherents have broken with them, contending such "adventuristic" tactics are self-defeating because they will alienate potential support and increase Government action against the radicals.

Today's action began shortly before 10 A.M. as a band of about 100 members of the Weathermen faction of S.D.S. and its rival, the Revolutionary Youth Movement-II, have called demonstrations here running to Saturday to coincide with the conspiracy trial of eight radicals charged with fomenting

STATEMENT BY JEFFREY ST. JOHN, AUTHOR, "COUNTDOWN TO CHAOS"

HON. W. E. (BILL) BROCK

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 7, 1969

Mr. BROCK. Mr. Speaker, one of the most provocative analysis of the New Left movement and its implication is contained in a new volume on the bookstands called "Countdown to Chaos" by Jeffrey St. John. I commend this incisive look at one of our greatest problems today to the attention of my colleagues. I include the following remarks in the RECORD:

COUNTDOWN TO CHAOS (By Jeffrey St. John)

"The Great Political Riot" in this city a year ago this week represented a new phase of a domestic revolutionary movement's attempt to polarize and paralyze with violence America's educational, social, political, and economic institutions.

Next month the legal system of America will come into the revolutionary gunshots of some of the same New Left radicals who helped disrupt last year's convention. For next month the major radical leaders involved in last year's disorders will stand trial: an event the New Left will use as a pretext for initiating fresh violence and disruption. It will be their intent to try to cast the legal system in the same light as the 1968 Democratic Convention corrupt repressive, and in need of revolutionary overthrow.

As an example of what we can expect at next month's trials, we should consult the New Left protests over the trial of Black Panther leader Huey Newton in Oakland, California. The "Free Huey" campaign became a nationwide rallying point for New Left radicals and revolutionaries. Without question the threats of violence and incessant protests played a powerful role in the decision of the Oakland jury and judge—for they were intimidated to modify Newton's sentence.

New Left efforts did not "Free Huey" but the precedent was set for a minority to use threats of violence and disorder in order to force legal decisions in their favor. Last year at the convention a radical minority sought to use violence and disorders to make political decisions.

Not far from the Oakland courtroom where Newton was convicted, just five years ago this September, the so-called "student rebellion" at the University of California at Berkeley had burst into headlines. Berkeley set the precedent of using violent confrontations to bring about changes in the university—a technique that soon spread to other educational institutions across the country.

In the five years since Berkeley we have seen the emergence of a pattern out of the revolutionary past. Student protests began in the university and then fired violent protests in other areas of the society: be it in ghetto "Uprisings" at the Pentagon in October 1967, or Columbia University in the spring of 1968. The latter two events are described in my book, "Countdown to Chaos," as preludes to the disorders at the Democratic Convention.

"The Great Political Riot" of last year, in turn, proved to be the prelude to violent events at San Francisco State, Cornell, and Harvard, and other areas of the country in late 1968 and most of this year. It was the fulfillment of Rennie Davis's promise shortly after the '68 convention disorders that "we expect a lot of action at the universities, there will be Columbias all over the country."

Thus, in less than five years, we have seen how violence employed by a minority has disrupted our educational, municipal, and political system. And in the wake of the Chicago 1968 disorders, student-adult radicals injected themselves into labor disputes from coast to coast: for example, the grape boycotts and welfare protests, and many other areas of our social and economic life.

We have, therefore, seen violence move from our educational system to governmental, social, political, and economic institutions—all within a short five years. This pattern, as I said a moment ago, is much like earlier revolutionary movements in Europe in the late 19th and 20th centuries—revolution was preceded by an "uprising of the young." It began in the university and spread to the society as a whole. Currently, as in the past, the success of student-adult revolutionaries is due to official mistakes, incompetence, and cowardice.

Chicago 1968, like the violence of the entire 1960's was only possible because of the default of the established order. In "Countdown to Chaos" no one comes off as a hero; the howling success of the radicals who came to disrupt the convention succeeded beyond their wildest dreams because of the failure of Mayor Daley, the police, Senator Eugene McCarthy, certain members of the mass media, attorney Daniel Walker and others. Each contributed to the convention disorders or to the later misunderstandings because they lacked the deeper insight to understand that what we are faced with is not dissent, but the calculated use of violence to ultimately bring down the social, political, and economic order. That certain innocents were involved in the Democratic Convention disorders only demonstrated that, like past revolutionary movements, the idealistic and morally concerned are often used as a revolutionary battering ram.

The violent events of last year here in Chicago and those of the entire "sick Sixties" make it mandatory that President Nixon act. He should ask for the establishment of a special Senate-House Committee to investigate the entire disruptive and violent decade of the 1960's. In the past, most governmental investigations have concentrated on only a particular aspect of this disruptive decade. But what is needed is an investigation that takes an "overview" look to determine whether the nation is beset by a revolutionary movement intent on destroying the social, political, and economic institutions as we know them today.

Chicago 1968 was but an important milestone in this attempt at the Second American Revolution. To ignore this fact further is to invite more Chicago and further peril to the liberties made possible by the only true revolution of the last 200 years: the American Revolution of 1776.

In October, 1964, the American Museum of Natural History in New York City was burglarized of the world famous "Star of India Sapphire" and other priceless gems, including the DeLong Star Ruby. Jack "Murph the Surf" Murphy and others were arrested by Bureau Agents in Miami, Florida and subsequently pled guilty to the local offenses in New York City. The Star of India and other priceless gems were recovered by local authorities but the DeLong Ruby was not among them. Intensive investigation by our Miami Division resulted in the recovery of the DeLong Ruby and the conviction in Federal Court of Pearson for ITSP. He was sentenced to 10 years in the Federal Penitentiary, which he is currently serving, and fined $10,000.

Francis P. Antel, the principal Government witness at Pearson's trial wrote a book entitled "Ransom and Gems" describing the role he played in the recovery of the DeLong Ruby. An autographed copy of this book was sent to the Director from this individual who was a former Bureau informant. No assistance had been given to Antel in the preparation of his book, however, it is noted that he was familiar with the details of the case since he testified as a key Government witness at the trial of Pearson.

It was recommended and approved that we not acknowledge Antel's communication in view of his unsavory background, his lengthy criminal record and the fact that he was a close associate of hoodlums.

The book written by Antel has been reviewed and does not contain any material which would appear to be objectionable with respect to the Bureau or its operations. To the contrary the author is most praiseworthy of the Bureau and its personnel. Several insignificant inaccuracies were noted which had no connection or bearing with the FBI.

This is a review of captioned book, published in 1969 by Doubleday and Company. This book is being placed in the Bureau Library.

"Trespass" is a novel of a group of black extremists who hold six prominent American families hostage in their homes to blackmail the U.S. Government into establishing a black nation in several Southern states. The group is called "The Blacks of February 21," the date, in 1965, when black extremist Malcolm X was murdered in New York City.

Although the fictional revolutionaries do not succeed in their plot, this book could be an organizational blueprint for revolution by black extremists. The plot is uncovered by a Negro FBI Agent and a large part of the book concerns the FBI investigation of this group.

The FBI is prominently mentioned, of course, but in the book, which is set in the indeterminate future, the Director of the FBI is a Jesse Pedersen. The only mention of the Director is at page 123 where Pedersen is described as a man "who lived forever with the knowledge that he was no J. Edgar Hoover." The author comments that Pedersen "liked to think that the caprices of the martinet were gone" and that the Bureau has "shed the halo of righteous omniscience that shimmered over the director's office during Hoover's long tenancy."

Author Knebel has written several novels, specializing in books about politics and government, set at indeterminate times in the future. The Director has noted that "Knebel is far from friendly."

BOOK REVIEW
"BLACK AMERICANS"
BY ALPHONSO PINKNEY
RACIAL MATTERS

This memorandum presents a review of captioned book, published in 1968 by Prentice-Hall, which is being placed in the Bureau library.

SYNOPSIS

Pinkney holds a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Cornell University, and while there he wrote two articles praising the Castro Government. The book consists of the results of the author's research of Negro history in the United States and his main theme is the sociological viewpoint. The book makes use of insignificant happenings to the Negroes throughout the years in order to show "white supremacy", and the subordinate position of the Negro. He indicates that militants will likely increase in number among the poor Negroes. The FBI "Uniform Crime Report - 1965" is used in discussing crimes committed by Negroes, which the author attributes to economic and social factors. FBI also mentioned as charging 21 persons with murder of three civil rights workers in Mississippi during June, 1964.

Memorandum to Mr. W. C. Sullivan
RE: BOOK REVIEW
"BLACK AMERICANS"
BY ALPHONSO PINKNEY

DETAILS:

REVIEW OF BUREAU FILES

Alphonso Pinkney, the author, was born in Palatka, Florida. Bureau files reveal that he holds a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Cornell University. He was listed as an assistant professor of sociology at Hunter College in New York in 1966. While at Cornell University in 1961 he was reported as affiliated with the Student Council of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. The "Cornell Daily Sun," a student newspaper, on 1/10/69 and 1/11/69 carried two articles written by him concerning a trip to Cuba. The articles praised the Castro Government and at the same time were critical of the United States. In 1966 a Cuban visa was requested by him as he was interested in the progress of racial democracy in Cuba.

BOOK REVIEW

This book consists of the results of the author's research of Negro history in the United States. Its main theme is the sociological viewpoint of Negro history in the United States --from the Negroes first arrival on the shores of Jamestown, Virginia, in 1619 to the present day black militancy. The author uses charts and examples to emphasize his points of view as to the forces which have been responsible for creating and maintaining the subordinate position of the Negro people in the United States. The book makes use of insignificant happenings to the Negroes throughout the years in order to show "white supremacy" and the subordinate position of the Negro. The author attempts to overcome the syllogistic proposition that because Slavery and Negroes are synonymous; and further, that Slaves are inferior; therefore, resulting that all Negroes are inferior. The book contends that contrary to popular belief, Negroes are representative of a variety of highly advanced civilizations, and that part of this heritage has survived the brutality of white supremacy in America.

One example of the author's biased opinion is shown in his observation that although the black birth rate has been higher than the white, and the black death rate is higher; therefore, this indicates another manifestation of the racist nature of American society.

Memorandum to Mr. J. C. Sullivan
RE: BOOK REVIEW
"BLACK AMERICANS"
BY ALPHONSO PINNEY

The author comments that a small part of the growing number of black people are now questioning the desirability of total integration. He indicates that it seems likely that the militants will increase in number and influence among the poor Negroes whose problems continue to intensify. He concludes that the demands of black Americans for equality can no longer be ignored.

MENTION OF THE FBI

The FBI is mentioned on pages 122-126. The author states that the American Crime Statistics Report of the FBI is the most comprehensive index of arrests available. In discussing crimes committed by Negroes, he utilizes the "Uniform Crime Reports - 1965" (pages 117-118). The author in his book is reluctant to admit to the fact that black people commit a large proportion of crimes. He indicates that data on crime and other statistics and in some cases are inadequate and sometimes contradictory. He states that "It is possible that black people commit proportionately more conventional crimes than white Americans, but economic and social factors are responsible."

On page 178, the author mentions that "In Neshoba County, Mississippi, the county sheriff, his deputy and a policeman were among the 21 persons charged by the FBI with the murder of three civil rights workers in June, 1964."

SUBJECT: REVIEW OF "FINGERPRINTING"
BY EUGENE B. BLOCK

Reviews
Captioned book was recently sent to the Director by the author, who is on the Special Correspondents List. The book is autographed "To Hon. J. Edgar Hoover, with all good wishes & deep appreciation of his great help in making this book possible. Signed Eugene B. Block, December 4, 1969." We furnished considerable material to Mr. Block for use in this book.

The Director is listed as the first person in the acknowledgments. This book reviews the early history of fingerprinting and sets out individual cases which were early precedents for the use of fingerprints as evidence in court trials. The author credits the determination of the Director in the formation of the national fingerprint files in the Identification Division of the FBI. The book reviews many cases in which fingerprints played a major part. There are a number of references to the Director and the FBI, all of which are in a complimentary vein. Some of the cases discussed are: The Urschel Kidnaping, Barker-Karpis Gang, Dillinger, Roscoe Pitts, and Will West.

BOOK REVIEW

"THE ALGIERS MOTEL INCIDENT"

BY JOHN HERSEY
RACIAL MATTERS

This is a review of captioned book, published in 1968 by Alfred A. Knopf, Inc. The book is being placed in the Bureau Library.

SYNOPSIS:

John Hersey, a noted author who wrote a Pulitzer Prize winner "A Bell for Adano" in 1945, was born in Tientsin, China, in 1914 of missionary parents, attended Yale and Cambridge and is now Master of Pierson College at Yale. Hersey was alleged by Jay Whittaker Chambers, a self-confessed former Soviet espionage agent to have been member of communist cell at "Time" magazine in 1939. Hersey has been member of and/or contributed to organizations designated as communist by Attorney General. "The Algiers Motel Incident" describes the killing of three Negroes at the Algiers Motel in Detroit, Michigan, on July 25, 1967, during the 1967 Detroit riots. The author presents both sides but discards the police testimony as false while accepting the testimony of Negro witnesses, white prostitutes and the families of the deceased as the true facts. The FBI is mentioned on several occasions as having interviewed various witnesses to the event.

Memorandum to Mr. W. C. Sullivan
Re: BOOK REVIEW
"THE ALGIERS MOTEL INCIDENT"
BY JOHN HERSEY

DETAILS: REVIEW OF BUREAU FILES:

The author is a noted writer who won the Pulitzer Prize in 1945 for "A Bell for Adano." He has written mainly fiction including "The Wall," "A Single Pebble," "The War Lover," "White Lotus," "Too Far to Walk" and an account of the first atomic bombing entitled "Hiroshima." Hersey was born in Tientsin, China, in 1914 of missionary parents, attended Yale and Cambridge, was a war correspondent for "Time" and "Life" magazines and is now Master of Pierson College at Yale. Jay Whittaker Chambers, a self-confessed former Soviet espionage agent and former Senior Editor of "Time" magazine, alleged Hersey as Chief of Moscow Bureau of "Time" supplied information openly favorable to Soviet Russia to that magazine. Chambers further alleged that in 1939 Hersey was a member of communist cell at "Time" magazine. In addition, Hersey has been a member of and/or contributed to organizations cited by Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

BOOK REVIEW:

On the night of July 25, 1967, while the Detroit, Michigan, riots continued three Negroes were shot and killed at the Algiers Motel, an establishment in a Negro area catering to prostitution and other criminal activity. According to the police testimony a report was received that sniping was occurring in the vicinity of the motel and police and National Guardsmen responded. Police testimony indicates that they were fired upon while entering the motel and the three deaths occurred while the police and National Guardsmen secured the premises. Police found numerous Negroesmales at the motel in the company of two half-naked white prostitutes and each of these individuals claimed to have been beaten by the police.

Much of the testimony at the hearing was confusing due to the nature of the activity and the author attempts to discredit any snipers being present by showing that some of the Negroes involved had been playing with a starter's pistol thereby accounting for gunshots heard in the area.

Memorandum to Mr. W. C. Sullivan
RE: BOOK REVIEW
"THE ALGIERS MOTEL INCIDENT"
BY JOHN HERSEY

The author examines the testimony of all witnesses and some nonwitnesses, includes information as to the background of the deceased and their families and friends and then concludes that law enforcement members murdered the three Negroes whose greatest crime was "shacking up with white girls." As a result of the incident three policemen were suspended for their actions and two were subjects of a preliminary examination in which one was set free and the other, Ronald August, was held for murder. The author discusses the action of black militants in Detroit following the above incident. Reverend Albert Cleage of the Shrine of the Black Madonna who was head of an organization called "City-Wide Citizens Action Committee" allowed a "People's Tribunal" to hold a mock trial in his church which convicted police officers, a National Guardsman and a private guard of the murder of three Negroes. The author contends that the Algiers Motel incident polarized the racial situation in Detroit to such an extent that serious racial conflict will ensue.

MENTION OF THE FBI:

On page 246 one of the witnesses was mentioned as having talked to an FBI man downtown. On page 252 another reference is made to the FBI where a National Guardsman is testifying and states he had given statements to the FBI concerning activity on the night of the incident.

BOOK REVIEW
"BEYOND THE BURNING"
BY STERLING TUCKER
RACIAL MATTERS

This is a review of captioned book, published in New York City in 1968 by the Association Press. The book is being placed in the Bureau Library.

AUTHOR

Sterling Tucker was born 12/21/23 in Akron, Ohio. He is an officer of the National Urban League, Incorporated, Washington, D. C., and, as such, is considered to be well known in the area. He has engaged in some civil rights-type rallies and demonstrations. In 1958 he pleaded nolo contendere to a four-count income tax evasion indictment concerning his 1954 return. He was fined $500 and received a one-year suspended sentence and placed on probation for five years. He received an unconditional Presidential pardon on 12/23/66 (161-1073).

BOOK REVIEW

The book allegedly was written to show "how to achieve true black and white equality in America." However, the writer used numerous quotations from prior publications in an effort to show that all the ills, problems, and troubles of the Negro in America were caused by the white racist establishment. The habits and customs that were established during the early days of slavery have been perpetuated and the Negro has never gained full status as an individual America. In essence, Tucker claims that the only solution to the problem is to eliminate the ghetto and to place the Negro in full charge of all property, businesses, and activities within the areas that are now considered ghettos. If this is not done, he sees no alternative for the Negro but to destroy the present ghetto areas.

The author is critical of various Government agencies; however, no reference is made to the FBI. The Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and 1965 were described as acts which, if enforced, could have made a difference, but were "sabotaged by spineless, scared administrators whose ears were tuned to Capitol Hill."

This is a review of captioned book published in New York City in 1969 by the Dial Press. The book is being placed in the Bureau library.

AUTHOR

[REDACTED]
100-443166. [REDACTED]

He was a columnist with the "Guardian," a radical newspaper, 20 East 39th Street, New York, New York, on a part-time basis. He has participated in communist front groups in the past and traveled to both Cuba and North Vietnam during 1967 in violation of a United States State Department prohibition against such travel. Lester advocates revolution in the United States to obtain full rights for Negroes and in the book refers to himself as a revolutionary.

BOOK REVIEW

Captioned book purports to be written about that portion of the youth of the 1960's including the "beat generation" who are resisting the old order and the values set by their parents. It is a condemnation of American democracy and the white race. The author constantly expresses his hatred of the white man and states "White people deserve to be hated." In condemning America he praises life as it exists under the communist governments of Cuba and North Vietnam and he speaks highly of Fidel Castro and Che Guevara, the Cuban revolutionaries. Lester speaks of the black search for a new land and advocates revolution in this endeavor.

BOOK REVIEW
"ODYSSEY OF A FRIEND"

This is a review of the above-captioned book.

This book is a series of letters written by Whittaker Chambers, main Government witness in the Alger Hiss case, to William F. Buckley, Jr., editor of the National Review. The book has a 31-page foreword written by Ralph De Toledano in which he outlines the general story of the Hiss investigation. The letters are responses by Chambers to Buckley's letters. They deal with Buckley's attempts to get Chambers to work for him at the National Review, Chambers' expressed disapproval of the late Senator Joseph McCarthy's actions (page 176), comments on current affairs, and his reactions to attempts to exonerate Hiss.

THE PUBLISHER

This book was privately printed in the Fall of 1969 by the National Review and will be published by G.P. Putnam's Sons on January 27, 1970. Bufiles show that we have enjoyed cordial relations with this publishing firm.

MENTION OF THE DIRECTOR

In the foreword on page 13 De Toledano mentions that the involvement of Hiss in the communist espionage conspiracy was no secret in official Washington and that Isaac Don Levine had labored in agonizing frustration to interest Federal officials in the Chambers story. He continues "FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had tried to budge the stubbornly antagonistic President Truman in 1941 and 1946."

MENTION OF THE FBI

There are several references to the FBI. The only questionable references are on page 130 and 131. In a letter dated September 24, 1956, Chambers comments to Buckley that it seems beyond question that his telephone is "bugged" and he thought he knew who was doing it. On page 131 he states "incidentally, it is not, I think, the Bureau's tap. That was true in 1948. But it proved a bore to them, too—those long chats with the veterinary about ketosis and bumblefoot."

BOOK REVIEW

"THE NEW REVOLUTIONARIES"

(A Handbook of the International Radical Left edited by Tariq Ali)

INTERNAL SECURITY - NEW LEFT MATTER

This memorandum presents a review of captioned book, a copy of which is being retained in the Communist Infiltrated and New Left Groups Unit, Internal Security Section, Domestic Intelligence Division.

SYNOPSIS:

Twenty-six year old Pakistan-born Tariq Ali is a prominent leftist student leader in England and the son and nephew of two men who were very active in the Communist Party of India during the second World War and up to the time of the partition of India and Pakistan. Captioned book consists of 20 essays written by theoreticians, propagandists, radical activists, active revolutionaries, students and teachers, prison inmates and political exiles from all over the world, including Eldridge Cleaver, Stokely Carmichael, Fidel Castro, Regis Debray, and Tariq Ali, himself. Ali states the purpose of this book is to present "a Marxian alternative to Stalinism," an alternative something "to the left of the traditional communist parties." The theme throughout the essays is that through student revolt the workers of the world will be ignited, forming, with the radical youth of all countries, a force that will insure the success of a worldwide revolution. The one reference to the FBI in captioned book concerns President Eisenhower's farewell address to the American people. Ali stated that President Eisenhower "expressed some curious views (no doubt the appropriate speech-writer was duly reprimanded by the FBI)." He then quoted the portion of the President's address referring to the enormous amount spent on military security in the U.S., the creation of a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions, and his admonition that the American people must never let the weight of this combination endanger the liberties of democratic processes of the U. S.

FBI Mentioned

There is only one reference to the FBI in captioned book. This is in the last article in the book, written by Tariq Ali, and makes reference to President Eisenhower's farewell address to the American people. Ali stated that President Eisenhower "expressed some curious views (no doubt the appropriate speech-writer was duly reprimanded by the FBI)." He then quoted the portion of President Eisenhower's address referring to the enormous amount spent on military security in the United States, the creation of a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions, and his admonition that the American people must never let the weight of this combination endanger the liberties of democratic processes of the United States.

prison inmates and political exiles from all over the world, including Eldridge Cleaver, Stokely Carmichael, Fidel Castro, Regis Debray, and Tariq Ali, himself. Ali states that the purpose of this book is to present "a Marxian alternative to Stalinism," an alternative something "to the left of the traditional communist parties."

All of the essays stress the fact that a proletarian socialist revolution is necessary to overthrow the capitalist system throughout the "imperialist world." Belgian Marxist economist Ernest Mandel states: "The 'revolutionary' concept, in the proletarian Marxist sense of the term, has always implied another idea: 'internationalism.' This internationalism was demonstrated during the period when Che Guevara, an Argentinian, fought for the victory of the Cuban Revolution, then went on to die for the Bolivian Revolution."

An essay by two Polish students, both reportedly in jail for their opposition to the Gomulka regime, sets forth their certainty that the revolution will come and that it will envelop all of eastern Europe, including the U.S.S.R. They anticipate replacement of the present totalitarian regimes by true "workers' democracies" with a multiparty system, complete political freedom, no secret police and no regular armies.

Stokely Carmichael says, "The struggle we are engaged in is international. We well know that what happens in Vietnam affects our struggle here and what we do affects the struggle of the Vietnam people.We must join those who are for armed struggle around the world."

The late Inti Peredo, Che Guevara's successor as leader of the Bolivian guerrillas, wrote, "Armed struggle will surge ahead vigorously until all of the people gain political awareness and rise up in arms against the common enemy, United States imperialism.The time for a continental revolution has come."

The theme throughout the essays is that through student revolt the workers of the world will be ignited, forming, with the radical youth of all countries, a force that will insure the success of a worldwide revolution.

Reference is made to letter, 1/15/70, from Arthur Motley, Parade Publications, stating that captioned book contains favorable comments on Mr. Hoover and the FBI.

We have obtained a copy of "Honeycomb" which is Mrs. St. Johns' autobiography. She recounts her career as a feature writer for Hearst Newspapers, covering major events and prominent people, such as the Bruno Hauptman trial, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Huey Long, President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and various Hollywood notables.

MENTIONS OF MR. HOOVER AND THE FBI:

There are a number of mentions of Mr. Hoover and the FBI, all favorable. For example, on pages 287 and 295-7 the author mentions the good work of the FBI in investigating the Lindbergh kidnaping. On page 311 she quotes Mr. Hoover as telling Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold at Evalyn Walsh McLean's house, "Never overlook the genius for investigation of top reporters. Sometimes they break a case before we do. Often they bring us invaluable material."

On page 375 Mrs. St. Johns states that Mr. Hoover asked her to speak on the topic of parole to the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Tulsa; he had noted there was too much "parole going on." On page 375-6 she mentions that Evalyn McLean permitted a young G-man to hold the Hope Diamond and that the next day he shot himself. When Mrs. St. Johns questioned Mrs. McLean, who believed in the gem's sinister power, as to why she had done that, Mrs. McLean had stated, "It's better for him this way." Page 376 notes that Mr. Hoover was a friend of Mrs. McLean's and that he once stated she saw "more than the rest of us." On page 583 she mentions doing a "very odd job" for Mr. Hoover during World War II.

SUBJECT: Reviews
REVIEW OF BOOK, "POINTS OF REBELLION,"
BY WILLIAM O. DOUGLAS, JUSTICE, U.S. SUPREME COURT

"Points of Rebellion," published by Random House, consists of 97 pages divided into three parts, e.g. I. How America Views Dissent; II. The Legions of Dissent; III. A Start Towards Restructuring Our Society.

The FBI is mentioned on pages 21, 22 and 30. Page 21: "An ominous trend is the increasing FBI activity on present-day college and university campuses. They put under complete surveillance a member or leader of the Students for a Democratic Society group (SDS), monitoring every minute of months of his life." Douglas then quotes an unnamed educator who apparently wrote to Douglas as follows: "I want to reiterate my concern about the activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on college campuses. Your help in stopping what most Americans would consider to be an invasion of privacy and the beginnings of a police state is solicited.....In addition to the usual investigative procedures for security clearances in criminal cases, the FBI has been conducting field checks on individual students and faculty members who are suspected of being members of 'activist' groups. What it has come to mean is that any faculty member or student who speaks out or attends meetings of such groups (e.g., SDS) is apt to be investigated.....It is not unusual for the FBI to 'plant' a student in such groups as SDS and reimburse the student for his information. Furthermore, leaders of these organizations are placed under a system of national surveillance."

With reference to wiretapping the author states on P. 30: "The FBI and the CIA are the most notorious offenders, but lesser lights also participate: Every phone in every federal or state agency is suspect. Every conference room in government buildings is assumed to be bugged. Every embassy phone is an open transmitter. Certain hotels in Washington have allotments of rooms that are wired for sound and even contain two-way mirrors, so that the occupants can be taped or filmed.....It is safe to assume that in the federal capital, as well as in each state capital, there is no such thing as classified information.....The leveling effect of the numerous influences I have discussed is appalling. The tense and perilous times in which we live demand an invigorating dialogue.....It is not enough to be anti-communist. We need the irrepressible urge to rejoin the human race. We need to contribute moral and political leadership--as well as technical and financial help--to rebuilding a new world order controlled by Law rather than by Force."

M. A. Jones to Bishop memo
RE: REVIEW OF BOOK, "POINTS OF REBELLION"

Throughout his book, Douglas refers to the governing body of any organization, including the Federal Government, as "the Establishment." Page 13 is an example: "Our colleges and universities reflect primarily the interests of the Establishment and the status quo. Heavy infiltration of CIA funds has stilled critical thought in some areas." Page 14: "The university--symbol of the Establishment--is used to having its way in a community."

Douglas feels the dissent we are witnessing today is a "protest against living under rules and prejudices and attitudes that produce the extremes of wealth and poverty" etc....."This period of dissent based on belief in man will indeed be our great renaissance." (pgs. 32, 33) The author quotes Adolf Hitler's words in 1932 on page 58: "The streets of our country are in turmoil. The universities are filled with students rebelling and rioting. Communists are seeking to destroy our country. We need law and order."

Page 94: "The universities should be completely freed from CIA and from Pentagon control, through grants of money or otherwise. Faculties and students should have the basic controls so that the university will be a revolutionary force that helps shape the restructuring of society... The constitutional battle of the Blacks has been won, but equality of opportunity has, in practice, not yet been achieved...." Page 95: "George III was the symbol against which our Founders made a revolution now considered bright and glorious...We must realize that today's Establishment is the new George III. Whether it will continue to adhere to his tactics, we do not know. If it does, the redress, honored in tradition, is also revolution."

Pages 96, 97: Douglas states the search of youth today is to make the machine--technology--and the government that runs that machine--the servant of man. "That is the revolution that is coming...That revolution--now that the people hold the residual powers of government--need not be a repetition of 1776...It depends on how wise the Establishment is."
